“Lollipop” Song Details

The title “Lollipop” is an English word meaning “candy on a stick.” In Japan, spherical ones are most commonly seen, but overseas, the fun 🍭←type of candy with its colorful swirling patterns is also popular.

The theme of the lyrics is “front and back.” People yearn for the sweet and glamorous world, but behind it, there are always bitter and painful experiences. In the spotlight, especially bright in front of the public, the artists are living their lives with the risk of falling into darkness if they say or do one wrong thing.

The familiar, striking melody is taken from Edvard Grieg's composition “In the Hall of the Mountain King.”

The song was composed for the scene in the play “Peer Gynt” where the title character is being chased by the troll king's minions. Even in the song “Lollipop,” the theme of two sides—front and back—accentuates the thrilling and mysterious expression.

The track incorporates a variety of sound effects, and the rhythm pattern changes during the outro, creating a playful sound that matches the vibe of LIL LEAGUE.

LOLLIPOP

Na na na...

Breathless, one after the other
Homework piles up day after day
Social media is also not for fun
I must be careful with every word

Follow me from the birdcage
Break the chains and get out, You know?
Lost in this wonderland
You find yourself a puppet fallen to the dark side
It's not all sweet
The spice is for real
A world of light and shade

Making you fallin' in love, Lollipop Lollipop
Spinning, spinning, always in my head
Nobody knows, Lollipop Lollipop
Sweet and bitter, front and back
Now, Let me be your bad boy
Paranoid in my head
24/7
(Hey!)
Making you fallin' in love, Lollipop Lollipop
My true side is still a secret

Stuck with u
All day
Stuck with u
All night
Even if it's a strange fate
Sweet trap
Taste so good yea
Till it melts away
Baby you're mine

Making you fallin' in love, Lollipop Lollipop
Spinning, spinning, always in my head
Nobody knows, Lollipop Lollipop
Sweet and bitter, front and back
Now, Let me be your bad boy
Paranoid in my head
(Hey!)
Making you fallin' in love, Lollipop Lollipop
My true side is still a secret
